A tweet from Phil Spencer, Microsoft Gaming s CEO, r ead: We are pleased to announce that Microsoft and @PlayStation have signed a b inding agreement to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation following the acquisition o f Activision Blizzard. We look forward to a future where players globally have m ore choice to play their favorite games.

In the United States, the FTC had argued the acquisition deal would hur t consumers whether they played video games on consoles or had subscriptions bec ause Microsoft would have an incentive to shut out rivals like Sony Group.

However, Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley ruled on 11 June: The FTC has n ot shown it is likely to succeed on its assertion the combined firm will probabl y pull Call of Duty from Sony PlayStation, or that its ownership of Activision c ontent will substantially lessen competition in the video game library subscript ion and cloud gaming markets.

To address the FTC s concerns, Microsoft had agreed to license Call of Duty to rivals, including a 10-year contract with Nintendo, contingent on the me rger closing.

On Sunday, Microsoft did not disclose the duration of the agreement wit
