&t; The 1961 European Cup final was held at the Wankdorf Stadium, Bern on 31 May 1961, and was contested by Portuguese side Ben fica against Spanish side Barcelona. This was the first final not to include Rea l Madrid, who had won the previous five finals. Benfica lifted the trop hy for the first time, beating Barcelona 3 2.
&t; Benfica midfielder Mario Coluna broke his nose in the eighth m inute of the match; not wanting to risk further damage, when Domiciano Cav m put over a cross in the 55th minute, Coluna hung back outside the pen alty area. The ball was cleared directly to him; he volleyed it home for Benfica's third goal of the match.[2] &t; Route to the final [ edit ] &t; Five-time defending champions Real Madrid were knocked out in the first round by Barcelona, their bitter domestic rivals. After defeating Czec hoslovak champions Hradec Krlov; in the quarter-finals, Barc elona initially drew 2 2 on aggregate with West German champions Hamburger SV in the semi-finals. Since this was before UEFA competitions began using t he away goals rule, in order to determine who would advance to the final, 7; a replay was scheduled to be played at a neutral site on 3 May. Bar;a wo uld qualify for the final; by winning the replay 1 0 at the King Baudoui n Stadium in Brussels, with Evaristo scoring the decisive goal.[3] &t; Meanwhile, Benfica reached the final of the competition by eli minating Austrian champions Rapid Wien in a 4 1 semi-final aggregate win. This m arked the first time that a team from Portugal had ever progressed this
