It has also won 22 Paulistoes, in three Copa Libertadores, as part of a new strategic collaboration agreement announced by CONMEBOL and CONCACAF. The agreement aims to consolidate the development of the sport in South America and Central America, and to promote the growth of the market for betting on football matches.

The agreement also includes the creation of a joint venture to manage the rights of the sport, and to develop new betting products. The agreement is a landmark for the sport in Latin America, and represents a major step towards the professionalization of the market.

The agreement was signed in Rio de Janeiro, and will be implemented over the next few years. The agreement is expected to generate significant revenue for the sport, and to create new jobs in the industry.
