ite the difference! So why does a minecraft day go by so much faster than a real life? It's not just the difference in time, but the way we experience it. In Minecraft, time is measured in ticks, and a day consists of 24,000 ticks. In real life, a day consists of 86,400 seconds. This means that a Minecraft day is only 1/3.5 of a real day. So why does it feel so much longer? It's because of the way we spend our time. In Minecraft, we have to do a lot of things, like building, mining, and fighting. In real life, we have a lot of things to do, but we often spend our time on things that don't give us a sense of accomplishment or challenge. That's why a Minecraft day feels so much longer than a real day.
